

GERMANY SPLIT ON REOPENING U-BOAT WAR

Many Leaders Urge Employment of Submarines, Irrespective of America.

CHANCELLOR HOLDS LID ON

Directors of War Would Press Campaign With Utmost Vigor.

By CARL W. ACKERMAN.

BERLIN, June 21.—Taking advantage of a growing indifference to American opinion, advocates of a strong submarine policy have reopened the campaign for a more effective use of the German U-boats.

The German people now realize that hostilities will not end this summer, and may drag into next year. Faced with this fact, they are united in the desire to see the war pushed with the utmost vigor, until the allies are brought to terms.

This feeling, spreading gradually throughout the empire during the past few weeks, has been seized upon as a weapon by the men, who condemned Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg for yielding to the United States in the recent submarine controversy.

STILL HELD IN CHECK.

The chancellor at the present moment has the upper hand. But the recent slackening of the press censorship has been followed by some bold statements regarding the effectiveness of the submarine weapon which Germany still possesses, and by renewed activity on the part of the Navy League.

It is impossible to forecast what the result will be if regard for American opinion gives way more and more to the determination for aggressive measures to bring the war to a victorious end.

Europe's unfriendly reception of President Wilson's peace talk before the League to Enforce Peace, perhaps caused interest in Germany to veer away from America. At any rate, it is held here that the President's failure to obtain a response has not added to his influence.

During recent conversations with public men I have noted a general change in their attitude toward America. American Sumner, the German view right now is about this:

"Sixty per cent of Americans are against us. Thirty per cent are for us. Ten per cent are indifferent. Nothing we can do will change American opinion in a way that will help us win the war. We should go ahead then, concentrating all our energy on victory."

Nothing to Fear.

The military and economic situation convinces the Germans that they have nothing to fear from a continuance of the fighting. An admission in an article in the London Mail that the British food blockade cannot force Germany to terms has been widely read here.

In view of the recent eight days of rain, followed by ideal weather for crops, the German people are convinced that they cannot be starved out.

The Russian offensive hasn't disturbed the public mind. The Russians not only have been halted, but that a successful German counter-move is already under way.

The Russians, the Gazette says, have failed in their prime object, to win Roumania to the side of the allies, as is evidenced by the fact that the Roumanian Queen is soon to visit Berlin.

The Lokal Anzeiger emphasized another phase of the situation today. Referring to the English losses in the Skagerrak engagement, to the French losses at Verdun, and the Italian losses in the Trentino, the Lokal Anzeiger declared the allies were using magnifying glasses to convert defeats into seeming victories.

The article concluded with the statement that since the allies fail to realize they are beaten there is only one thing for Germany to do—fight the war to a finish.

25,000 IN FOOD RIOT IN BAVARIAN CAPITAL

Mob, Crying "We Starve," Stones City Hall and Is Charged by Troops.

LONDON, June 21.—Evidence of increasing economic pressure in Germany and Austria, due to the allies' blockade, comes from various sources. Riots occurred last week-end in a number of German cities, notably Munich and Aix-la-Chapelle.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich says that 25,000 persons participated in the demonstrations Saturday in Munich, when considerable damage to property was inflicted. It is reported that the Rathaus (town hall) was damaged, and that windows of all the neighboring houses were broken. Troops charged the crowd several times, and large numbers of persons were wounded. Many arrests are said to have been made.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Milan quotes the Munchener Nachrichten for an account of the Munich riot.

"Women who had been unable to obtain provisions in the morning," says the dispatch, "swarmed in the afternoon to the Rathaus. They began a noisy demonstration, asking for bread. Toward evening the police found it necessary to disperse them. Other mobs immediately gathered, and joined this time by soldiers, the police were obliged to effect numerous arrests. The mob smashed windows of the Rathaus and Alerkeller. The police, and finally the soldiers, came upon the scene and pushed the crowd brutally. Among the cries heard from the mob were, 'We are starving. We want bread and we want peace.'"

Thousands in Outbreak.

At Aix-la-Chapelle, according to the Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent, serious disturbances took place on Saturday. Thousands gathered in the streets, marched in procession, and afterward assembled in large crowds, which had to be dispersed by police charges. An almost complete absence of foodstuffs was the cause of the outbreak.

This correspondent says the Berlin meat ration for the week beginning yesterday is 10½ ounces per head, as compared with 12½ ounces last week. The official explanation is that the number of cattle at their disposal will be smaller this week than last, but the truth is that in the latter period many persons were unable to obtain their quantity to which their meat cards entitled them. The shortage of potatoes continued. The ration allotted for the period June 12 to June 18 was five pounds a head, but the authorities now admit that available supplies are not adequate to meet this allowance, and announce that those unable to obtain potatoes may claim an extra quantity of bread.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Morning Post says that in several German towns the price of milk has again increased. At Leipzig and other towns in Saxony there is almost a dearth of potatoes, the situation being even worse than in Berlin.

Describes Food Conditions.

An American who was in Berlin about the middle of May writing in the Daily Mail says:

"I found that fats of all kinds, including oils and butter, are not to be had at least so far as the common people are concerned. Eggs are plentiful, it is not exaggerating to say that more than two-thirds of the butcher shops of great Berlin are closed on account of the lack of supplies."

"There is a scarcity of milk everywhere in Berlin and other large cities. Cream is absolutely unobtainable. Dutch and Swiss cheese can still be had, but German cheese has entirely disappeared. Undoubtedly the most plentiful and least expensive article of food in Germany at the present time is fish. Such, in brief, were the conditions of food supply which I found in the German capital about the middle of May."

Embrace After Duel.

HAVANA, June 21.—Senator Maza Artola and Senator Andre, an editor, who quarreled over the political situation, exchanged three shots in a pistol duel here and then went on each other's arms. 120,000 GERMAN RUSHED EASTWARD

Six Divisions Hurried to Defense of Lemberg, Say Geneva Dispatches.

BERLIN, June 21.—Russian forces which crossed the river Styx west of Kolki have been driven back across the river, the Germans taking 1,000 prisoners, the war office announced this afternoon.

LONDON, June 21.—Six German divisions—120,000 men—have been hurried eastward to oppose the Russian offensive bearing down upon Lemberg, Geneva dispatches reported today.

Two German divisions are en route to the Lutsk-Kovel front. The Austrians, attacked by German troops, are counter-attacking with great vigor on this northern flank of General Brusilov's armies and appear to have checked temporarily at least the Russian advance.

Four German divisions are being rushed into action on the thirty-mile front from Brody southward to a point east of Przemyshlan. The Russians have opened a heavy artillery attack on this line, evidently in preparation for a hard smash toward Lemberg.

Dispatches from Berlin and Vienna today admitted that the Austrian right wing, under General Pfanner, continues a rapid retreat before the Russians in Bukovina. The terrific force of the Russian artillery fire is causing Pfanner to retire rather than sacrifice his men, Vienna reported, but it is expected he soon will make a stand against the Russians.

German Infantry Charges Halted By Screen Fire

PARIS, June 21.—Following the explosion of two mines, the German infantry last night attacked French trenches on Hill 108, south of Berry-au-Bac, in the region of Rheims. The war office today announced the attack was checked by screen fire.

On both banks of the Meuse artillery was kept busy during the night, and around Verdun.

Wants No Bee Visitors.

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 21.—E. S. Miller, a member of the National Association of Beekeepers and owner of several hundred stands of bees in this county, has been sued because, it is alleged, some of his bees flew to the home of Raymond Austin, a farmer living by and among the livestock, poultry, and children, in addition to usurping a water tank.

CENTRAL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Congressman Reilly Tells 170 To Be Morally and Physically Prepared.

Congressman Michael K. Reilly of Wisconsin urged more attention to morals and physical training, and less to algebra and the classics, before the graduating class of Central High School at the National Theater yesterday afternoon.

"I have no doubt all you graduates are mentally prepared," he said, "but there are other requisites necessary to fight the battles of life—physical and moral strength."

Congressman Reilly said he would have admission requirements to high schools include physical examinations. He also said he would have certain physical requirements prescribed as conditions of getting diplomas.

E. L. Thurston, superintendent of schools, a Central alumnus, presided. Ernest H. Davis, vice president of the Board of Education, presented diplomas; Emory M. Olson, principal of the school, announced scholarships, and the Rev. Earle Willey, of Vermont Avenue Christian Church, pronounced the invocation.

The theater was filled and many of the auditors had to stand. The graduating class numbered 170. Scholarships and honors were announced as follows:

Awarded by the George Washington University as the result of competitive examinations—First University, Louise Turnoff; Second University, Margaret

Whitford; Third University, Gretchen King.
